a note from the editor

Welcome to our second year of the fanzine. Recently the world tour began in Australia to rave reviews. The guys are excited about bringing their show around the world. They will be touring until late August so keep an eye out for dates near you.

As I write this, Savage Garden have just returned from the New Zealand leg of the tour, as well as performing at the 'Blockbuster Entertainment Awards' in Los Angeles. They played "TRULY MADLY DEEPLY" to an audience that included Janet Jackson, Mariah Carey, Boyz to Men as well as actors including Nicholas Cage, Julia Roberts, Minnie Driver and a host of Hollywood stars. They had a great time.

The Australian tour was such an amazing experience for the guys that we have included 2 reviews from members to explain from the crowd perspective what the show was like.

We would like to say "thank you" for the great letters, poems, drawings and photos you have sent in to us. There are some very talented fans out there!

We'd like to welcome all our new members and a big thank you to all the 'foundation members' who have chosen to stay with us for another year.

Chris

While on the Australian tour the guys have been working very hard. The show is very energetic and both Darren and Daniel have had their share of injuries. On the first night there was an electrical storm in Cairns which caused blackouts several times during the show. At one point the entire P.A. stopped working. But the show went on. The funniest moment ever was during the final costume change for 'THISISIDOFME'. Darren is supposed to come out in a blue 'swoosh' bodyshirt and dance with a member of the audience. However, back stage his zipper on his pants broke...and Darren had to sing half the song backstage while frantic stage hands desperately tried to fix the situation. Then on the first show in their home town of Brisbane...both Darren and Daniel fell off stage!!! Poor Daniel slipped on a water spill on stage and landed on his guitar technician. Then Darren took a courageous flying leap into the crowd but forgot it was a six foot drop. He landed on his feet and then his legs buckled beneath him. The next day both guys were sporting swollen knee caps. You would think this would be a lesson to them both

.... but not! The very next night in Sydney, Darren misjudged the length of the catwalk and walked right off!!!! He is embarrassed to admit that he pretended he meant to do it and most of the crowd didn't notice it, but for weeks his knees were bruised and swollen from his crash into the barricades. The irony of the situation is that when the guys first saw the U2 POPMART show in Los Angeles, The Edge did the same thing. Daniel actually turned to Darren at the time and said "If I ever do that, I am leaving the business!". Needless to say after their stunt work in Sydney neither Darren or Daniel have resigned from Savage Garden as yet!

At the time of writing this article the Australia/New Zealand leg of the tour has ended after 25 performances. It was a great success. At the end of the tour the guys attended U2's POPMART show in Sydney. It was a rainy night and Darren actually stood in the crowd on the floor near the catwalk and got very sick (he almost had to cancel a photo and video-shoot then next day). The show was great and finished with a very touching tribute to Michael Hutchence. Afterwards, Darren finally got to meet Bono and it lived up to his expectations. Daniel joked with the Edge about falling over on stage and a good time was had by all. Since finishing the first leg of the tour Darren spent some time in New York to relax and Daniel relaxed in his new home in Australia.

An amazing video has just been shot with director Adolpho Doring for the song Break Me Shake Me. Keep an eye out for this new single in Europe and America. It is undecided what the next single will be. Closer to home Savage Garden were awarded the "Keys To The City" by Brisbane's Mayor Jim Sootley on the 6th February 1998. Darren and Daniel signed autographs for their hometown fans after the presentation was over.

We Want More

The lights dimmed, a coloured moon rose and the Perth crowd screamed. On the stage three men appeared, one with a guitar, one with hand drums and another with bagpipes, wearing kilts. What in the world was going on?? THE KILTED GENERATION . . . that's what!

These guys were Savage Gardens lead in band for their concerts and you could hear, and see why they were chosen. They were smart, funny and they knew how to please us. Every time they said Savage Garden the Perth crowd roared with screams and cries. Their music and attitudes were fantastic and they are the best lead-ins that I have experienced yet.

There was a break and at 9pm the lights dimmed once again. Smoke poured from the vents, coloured, amazing lights zoomed and flashed through the crowd and around the stage. Then he appeared, Daniel stood on the steps, guitar in hand with smoked lights behind him, and the crowd screamed with delight and love. Then we saw Darren, dressed in a military based style of black clothing, he sang pleasure into our hearts.

The vibes in the crowd were amazing. Darren and Daniel blasted our eyes, ears and minds with so many delights that girls, and guys, surrounding me were screaming, laughing, crying and FAINTING with Savage's every breath, note and word. The music was so different to what their album sounds like and we all loved every single minute of them.

Darren was extremely cheeky up on stage. Strutting his stuff he made girls scream every time he touched his chest or slapped his backside. Daniel even got told off when he stuffed up on Santa Monica. He stopped playing the keyboards, probably thinking it was the end of the song, and everything went quiet. Darren just stopped, looked at Daniel with 'Hello! what are you doing?' attitude and look. Then Darren walked to the far end of the stage where he stopped, turned his back on Daniel, and crossed his arms with a look of total disgust on his face. The crowd laughed so loudly. Darren finally went back to the middle of the stage and started singing, after he had given Daniel just one more look of disgust, the crowd poised with a feeling that simply said "THESE GUYS ARE TOTAL LEGENDS".

We loved the concert so much that when they said they had to go, people all around screamed with cries and called "NO, WE WANT MORE!". They hadn't played my favourite song, and getting swept up in the emotions, I started to cry and scream. But they answered our calls and came back to sing my favourite song Truly Madly Deeply.

All in all this is the best concert I have been to. They satisfied every cell in my body and as I am writing this I can still feel the crowds vibes, still see their on-stage antics, still feel the pleasures Savage Garden has given me and my throat and head are still thumping. I pray this feeling lasts forever.

THANK YOU DARREN AND DANIEL FOR THE BEST NIGHT OF MY LIFE. PERTH LOVES YOU TRULY MADLY DEEPLY AND COME BACK SOON.

Love

THE FUTURE OF EARTHLY DELITES'

AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND TOUR

A review by Jessica Milne

The long awaited world tour began in Australia on January 19th at the Cairns convention centre. This had been almost six months in the planning. The set design featured an enormous 60ft x40 ft backdrop of a futuristic cityscape reminiscent of 'Blade Runner'. Three silver staircases lead to a platform at the top of the set from where Daniel and Darren entered. The show began with a piece of music by Peter Gabriel and then exploded into a very different version of 'TEARS OF PEARLS'. After the band arrived on stage in a flicker of strobe lights, Daniel appeared at the top of the stairs stage right. He was lit by a huge backlight and was seen wearing his flame shirt and silver pants. As he made his way down the stairs we saw a shadow appear at the other side of the stage. As the song built up to a crescendo, all the light beamed onto the top of the centre stair case and there was Darren in his black trenchcoat. It was amazing because you didn't see him arrive...he just appeared. 'PEARLS' went straight into a funky version of 'LOVE CAN MOVE YOU' where Darren ran down the catwalk into the audience for the first time. The crowd went crazy. At the end of the track Darren took off his coat to reveal a silver body shirt and Han Solo pants with big chunky industrial boots. He pranced around the stage to 'VIOLET' and an emotional version of 'MOON AND BACK' before singing a beautiful version of the Bonnie Raitt song 'I CAN'T MAKE YOU LOVE ME' with backing vocalist Anna Maria Laspina. Daniel and Darren then walked to the end of the catwalk to perform an acoustic set which included 'PROMISES' and 'FIRE INSIDE THE MAN'. It was a really beautiful moment...the crowd were clapping and swaying to both songs and it was the first time the guys spoke to the audience...thanking them for their support and explaining the meaning behind the music. Then it was back to the main stage for 'SANTA MONICA' and 'CARRY ON DANCING'. The lights went out completely and when they came back on Darren was standing in a silver robe with a hood, like a Jedi Knight. He was bathed in red light and stood at the edge of the catwalk where smoke and steam poured out. They sang 'MINE' and Darren was surrounded by wind and smoke, his cape flowing and moving in the air. It was very magical. At the end of the song he tossed the cape into the pit and the band began 'A THOUSAND WORDS'. Once again in darkness, 'BREAK ME, SHAKE ME' began and the crowd began screaming. Darren appeared in a combat outfit, wearing what looked like a suit of armour. The song was the big duel between Daniel and Darren on the catwalk, with the guys almost pushing each other off. It ended at the top of the main stairs and the entire band left the stage while 'ALL AROUND ME' began. This was a real electronic club version of the song that played while Darren and the two backing singers changed. A huge cluster of disco balls came down from the ceiling and the lights went crazy. Suddenly Darren and the girls appeared on stage in ridiculous Austin Powers outfits. Darren wore a long white trenchcoat and orange glasses. The girls wore fluffy pink and blue coats with white wigs. They all wore head microphones and as the song began, they strutted down the catwalk in a camp dance routine. It was very funny. Lots of butt slapping and 'OH YEAH BABY' conversations. At the end of the song the stage went to complete darkness and 'I'LL BET HE WAS COOL' began. Just Darren on a single white chair. His outfit removed to reveal a shiny black body shirt and black pants. Just him under a white spotlight. He performed the song alone on the catwalk...using the chair in a cabaret style performance. Sometimes jumping on the chair and standing up, dragging it, twirling it and using it like a lion tamer would. The crowd loved this song and it ended with Daniel joining him on the catwalk for 'UNIVERSE'. The final song of the set was 'I WANT YOU' and the whole auditorium were on their feet clapping and cheering. For the encore Darren picked a girl from the audience and danced with her while he sang 'THIS SIDE OF ME'...and then after saying their farewells, Daniel and Darren finished the show with 'TRULY MADLY DEEPLY'. It was a rollercoaster ride, full of emotions and colour and I enjoyed every minute of the show. Make sure you don't miss it when it hits your town because you will come away feeling very entertained.
